

MoU with Bosch India Pvt. Ltd.

Short Term Job Oriented Training for the out of formal learning Youths:

Wheels Global Foundation (WGF) in partnership with BOSCH Foundation and Shamlaji Arts College has successfully completed first batch of the job oriented training of 21 Youths, 9 female and 12 Male. These youths come from most underprivileged households. Due the households conditions, they have dropped out of school at the tender age to support the family; thus are deprived of the formal graduate and potential post graduate academic excellence to be able to fulfill their aspirations and dreams. WGF has stepped in to support these aspired youths to live up to their dreams.

As part of Livelihood verticals of WHEELS, WGF facilitated the establishing BOSCH Foundation's BRIDGE center in Shamlaji college. The three months short duration course is divided in to two phases, two months of classroom training and one month of the on-the job training. WGF provided two young female master trainers to build the capacities of the youths in soft job oriented skills such as communication, ethics, Values, team work, problem solvers, basic English and computer literacy, client service, so on and so forth. The conscious decision to recruit female teachers from the same place was to empower the women in to teaching and leadership position and also creating female role models to demonstrate the capability of young women in tribal areas.

Shamlaji college provided the infrastructure to host the Bridge Training Center. BOSCH foundation provided training kits and trained WGF master trainers. Some of the Youths have been offered entry level positions in Ahmedabad, Surat and Vapi in various industries.

At ARAVALLI, a tribal region in Gujarat, WGF SMART Village initiative: Wheels Global Foundation (WGF) in partnership with BOSCH Foundation and Shamlaji Arts College has successfully completed the first batch of the job-oriented training of 21 Youths, 9 female and 12 Male. These youths come from most underprivileged households. Due to personal circumstances, many of these students had dropped out of school at an early age to support their families and were deprived of academic programs. WGF together with the Bosch Foundation set up a BRIDGE Center in Shamlaji College to provide three months short duration course divided into two phases, two months of classroom training and one month of on-the-job training. Twenty-one students will be graduating in December – the first graduating class of its kind where 100% of the students are placed in area companies leading to full-time opportunities.

As part of the Livelihood verticals of WHEELS, WGF facilitated the establishment of the BOSCH Foundation's BRIDGE center in Shamlaji college. WGF provided two young female master trainers to build the capacities of the youths in soft job-oriented skills such as communication, ethics, values, teamwork, problem solvers, basic English and computer literacy, client service, and so forth. Female teachers were recruited to empower women to be in teaching and leadership positions and also to create female role models for young women in tribal areas. Shamlaji college provided the infrastructure to host the Bridge Training Center. BOSCH foundation provided training kits and trained WGF master trainers. Some of the Youths have been offered entry-level positions in Ahmedabad, Surat, and Vapi in various industries. The local Gujarati media covered this important milestone for the Aravalli district.
